

WHATEVER BRINGS A SMILE TO YOUR FACE

You want to prance around with no clothes on Dancing through the streets in the pouring rain
Of course you know I would go along
Though I don't care much for horror shows

You wish to see things from the inside out
So now you're planning to break into jail
Well I'm not sure what that's all about
I can hardly wait to see how it goes

Chorus

*I am done struggling
In this stupid race
Love is too dear and
Chances so few
That I would give it all up
And gladly choose to do
Whatever brings a smile to your face*

Bridge

Love will make you do
The wildest things
And love will make you do
The quietest things
Each one will make you
Forget time, place and yourself
Maybe love is most real
When you find your joy
In someone else

You told me you were raised pretty well
But you had to lie to stay that way
Now you're sure that you're halfway to Hell
So you want to change but just not yet

You lived your life with a secret call
I think you said it was error and trial
Things got tense when they stood you up against a wall
And you got handed a blindfold and cigarette

Chorus

Chuck Casey
Copyright 2019